A Message from Our President

Dear Valued Clients,

As August arrives, we begin to notice the subtle transition from the heat of summer to the comfort of fall. For many families, this is the season of preparing for football weekends, neighborhood gatherings, outdoor dinners, and making the most of cooler evenings spent outside.

At Bradsher Custom Outdoor, we believe that the best memories are often made just beyond your back door. Every exceptional outdoor living space begins with a solid foundation. Whether it's a beautifully crafted paver driveway welcoming guests to your home or a custom patio where family and friends gather throughout the seasons, these spaces become an extension of your home and your lifestyle.

For more than two decades, our mission has remained the same: to build outdoor spaces that combine craftsmanship, durability, and timeless beauty. Every project we complete is built with careful planning, quality materials, and meticulous attention to detail because we know that lasting value starts below the surface.

Inside this month's newsletter, we're sharing why August is one of the best times to begin a driveway or patio project, the advantages of interlocking pavers, and how proper installation protects your investment for years to come.

Thank you for allowing Bradsher Custom Outdoor to be part of your home improvement journey. We appreciate the confidence you place in our team and look forward to helping you create an outdoor space your family will enjoy for generations.

Wishing you a wonderful close to summer.

A Beautiful Home Starts with a Beautiful Entrance

Your driveway is one of the largest and most noticeable features of your property. It's the first thing that visitors, neighbors, and potential buyers see when they arrive at your home.

A worn, cracked, or outdated driveway can detract from the overall beauty of your home.

A professionally installed interlocking paver driveway offers several benefits:

- Outstanding curb appeal
- Increased property value
- Long-lasting durability
- Easier maintenance
- Endless design possibilities

Unlike traditional poured concrete, pavers come in a wide variety of colors, patterns, and textures that can complement virtually every architectural style, from classic brick homes to modern custom residences.

The result is an entrance that is both elegant and built to last for decades.

Concrete vs. Interlocking Pavers
Which Option Is Best?

Concrete

- Lower initial cost
- Limited design options
- More likely to crack
- Difficult repairs
- One solid slab
- Can discolor over time

Interlocking Pavers

- Premium appearance
- Hundreds of design combinations
- Flexible system resists cracking
- Individual pavers easily replaced
- Engineered interlocking system
- Color remains attractive for years

While both materials provide durable surfaces, interlocking pavers offer superior flexibility, easier maintenance, and exceptional curb appeal.

For homeowners seeking long-term value, pavers continue to be the preferred choice.

Quality Begins Below the Surface

One of the biggest misconceptions about patios and driveways is that success depends solely on the surface material.

The reality is that what lies beneath determines how well your project performs over time.

Every Bradsher Custom Outdoor project includes:

✔️ Proper excavation
✔️ Engineered base preparation
✔️ Precision grading
✔️ Drainage planning
✔️ Professional compaction
✔️ Expert installation

Our experienced crews follow industry best practices to ensure every project performs beautifully for many years.

Because quality isn't something you see.

It's something you build from the ground up.

OUTDOOR MAINTENANCE TIPS

Protect Your Investment

To keep your paver driveway or patio looking its best:

- Sweep regularly to remove debris.
- Rinse away dirt with a garden hose.
- Remove weeds before they spread.
- Consider professional cleaning and sealing every few years.
- Address small issues early before they become larger repairs.

Routine maintenance helps preserve the beauty and longevity of your outdoor investment.
